

Tamar NRM

The Blank Slate

Developing a property with sustainability principles in mind

Ross and Judy Flint did a fantastic job of turning a Rosevears property into an amazing productive and attractive place to live. As they embark on their new adventure in Exeter, they have welcomed us in at a critical time of the planning phase as they "start from scratch". This workshop is targeted at smaller landholders and larger backyards.

Speakers: Dr Bill Cotching, Steve Solomon, Ross & Judy Flint and Frank Strie

Topics:

- Where to start
- Understanding what soils you inherited
- Soil improvement,
- Compost making and Biochar, and
- Managing weeds.

Where: Exeter (address details on registration)

When: Sunday 2nd April, 2017 10:00 am to 2:30pm

Register for event: $30 adult $10 child or $60 family - for Lunch and morning tea (or BYO and register for free)

Please contact Gill Basnett for more details and to RSVP
Ph: 03 6323 3310 or email: gill.basnett@launceston.tas.gov.au

Tamar NRM Sustainable Living Working Group