

Catch it in the Catchment

A community clean-up of the Tamar

80% of all plastics in our oceans come from the land via rivers and estuaries.

What if we could catch this and other rubbish before it started this journey.

What a great idea! Be part of the solution not the problem.

Who: Everyone who lives, works and plays in the Tamar Estuary Catchment

When: 10th November 2019 9am-12pm

Where: Your local community along the Tamar Estuary/Kanamaluka

How to get involved and register

1. Organise a group and a coordinator from your local community - schools, clubs, businesses, community groups, sporting groups such as walking, rowing, cycling, sailing, football, or netball clubs ...If you are on your own we can link you in with a local group.
2. Contact us to register: email: catchitinthecatchment@gmail.com
Facebook: Catch it in the Catchment

Celebrate: Let's celebrate this great Tamar Estuary event at a BBQ close to your community clean-up site

A small effort for a short time by many people can help restore our beautiful Tamar/Kanamaluka estuary

A Tamar NRM project

Tamar NRM

supported by

